An humble Addreſs of the Mayor and Commonalty of the City of New Sarum; preſented to his Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Lord Herbert.

An humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgeſſes and principal Inhabitants of the Town and County of Southampton; preſented to his Majeſty by their Recorder, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Viſcount Townſhend, one of his Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State.

Which Addreſſes His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

From the Camp at Stirling, October 4. On the 2d Inſtant the Rebels detached from Perth about 400 Horſe and 500 Foot, to the Sea-Coaſt of Fyfe, where was a ſmall Veſſel near to Bruntiſland with ſome Arms on Board which were deſigned for the Earl of Sutherland, but the Veſſel being detained by contrary Wind, and the Rebels having Notice of it, they got Boats and boarding the Veſſel in the Night, ſeized and carried off to Perth the ſaid Arms being in Number about 300. His Grace the Duke of Argyle not having had Intelligence of the March of the foreſaid Detachment from Perth and of their Deſign till the 3d in the Morning, both he and the other General Officers were of Opinion, that it was too late to think of Intercepting them. That Day his Grace being informed, that the Earl of Mar propoſed to be the following Night at Arva 4 Miles from Stirling, with a ſtrong Detachment, he ordered out the Picquets of Horſe and Foot, and had all the Troops ready to march to ſuſtain them if there had been Occaſion; but none of the Rebels appearing, the Picquets returned to the Camp. His Grace continues encamped here, having with him the Regiments of Foot of Orrery, Shannon, Montague, Grant, Irwin, and Forfar, and the Regiments of Dragoons of Carpenter, Portmore, Stairs, and Kerr, and expects every Day to be joined by Evans's Regiment of Dragoons from Ireland, and alſo very ſoon by 4 Battallions of Foot from that Kingdom; which 'tis not doubted will put his Grace into a Condition to give a good Account of the Rebels. The fencible Men of Glaſgow and of ſeveral of the Weſtern and Southern Shires are part of them in this Camp, and the reſt are quartered in this Neighbourhood, ready to join the regular Forces on Occaſion. We hear from the North, that the Lord Strathnaver, Captain Monro of Foulis, and ſome other Gen-
